

STIHL GHE 105 SHREDDER

Compact electric shredder with feed chute

The STIHL electric shredder GHE 105 prepares you for medium-sized shredding jobs throughout the gardening year. The garden shredder is particularly suitable if you mainly want to shred woody tree or hedge cuttings with a high proportion of wood. The cutting unit can efficiently shred branches up to 35 mm in diameter. This electric shredder offers a wide cloverleaf opening for effortless feeding of the clippings into the grinder. However the STIHL GHE 105 also transforms soft material such as flower cuttings or foliage into a nutrient-rich mixture that can be easily composted. You can add mixed clippings via a separate oblong feed opening. After use, the garden shredder can be easily moved to its storage location thanks to its transport wheels and low weight.
