Electric Polaris in Victorian Splendour

Lee Priddle at C&O's Isle of Wight office has recently sold the company's first electric powered Polaris utility vehicle to English Heritage for use at the Osborne House Estate. The Ranger EV 2 seater was delivered with an additional steel cab and will be used by the estate's Beach Ranger to deliver to the recently opened café at Osborne Beach as well as general stock and staff movement across the site.

The electric powered model particularly appealed to Operations Manager David Bailey who said of the Polaris, 'It is environmentally friendly, cost effective and does not create unnecessary noise for our visitors wishing to explore the wonderful grounds at Osborne.'

Osborne is the family home built by Queen Victoria and Prince Albert in 1845 and now in the care of English Heritage. Today the House contains a vast number of objects belonging to the Royal Collections and the House and Estate is open to around 250,000 visitors each year.

Kingston Maurward Muckathon

C&O were pleased to once again support the Kingston Maurward Muckathon through the loan of a New Holland tractor. At the event 10 tractors, 3 telehandlers, 6 muck spreaders and 3 ploughs were used to complete the muck spreading, ploughing and cultivating in the allotted time.

The students raised nearly £3000 for the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance with the event.
